

Read Dunn Connell have made a smooth transition into Ilkley over the last few months.

The firm held a drinks evening to celebrate the merger with Nigel Ward & Co Solicitors.

The evening was a great success, it took place at Piccolino's in Ilkley and was attended by around 60 people from the local business community and clients of Nigel Ward.

The merger between the two firms has been very well received and the added legal services that will now be made available through Read Dunn Connell can only be a benefit both to businesses and individuals in the local community.
